

2018 International Conference on Emerging Health Policies and Smart Medical Care

Copyright License Agreement

I agree to grant the non-exclusive royalty-free worldwide license of “ (English Title of the Article) ” (called “the Article” in the following) and the slides, which I presented in “2018 International Conference on Emerging Health Policies and Smart Medical Care”, to Department of Health, Kaohsiung City Government to publish the article collection book of “2018 International Conference on Emerging Health Policies and Smart Medical Care” after the conference. I authorize Department of Health, Kaohsiung City Government to use, replicate, digitalize the Article in all languages and in any way, places and any time. I also authorize Department of Health, Kaohsiung City Government to authorize other local/abroad online/offline databases to include the Article for public usage.

I warrant that the Article is original, never published, and only submitted to “2018 International Conference on Emerging Health Policies and Smart Medical Care”. If copyrighted works are used in the Article, either they are with (written) consent, or sources are cited clearly in the Article as a fair use in compliance with general academic ethics. I warrant that the Article contains nothing that is libelous, unlawful, or harmful to others’ rights.

If the Article is co-authored by more than 1 person, the author who signed below has to notify co-authors the terms of this agreement and is authorized by co-authors as a representative to sign this agreement.

By (Name): (Signature)

ID:

Address (including Borough and Neighborhood):

Phone Number:

E-mail:

Date:

Note that:

1. The person who signed is the author of the Article and owns the copyright.
2. If the English version of the Article is translated by another person, the person who signed warrants to obtain the copyright of the English version of the Article.